This is a common set of questions that LawCentral asks when you build yourself this document. LawCentral uses advance WizardDoc logic flow. If you answer a question a certain way then different questions may appear.

To build this document you go to www.lawcentral.com.au. If you are not yet a member, then join up. There are lots of Hints to help you along the way. When you have answered all the questions then a Summary page appears. If everything is spelt correctly and is as you wish then you are asked for your Credit Card details and within seconds your document appears before you and is emailed to you as well. There is no human involvement and you get your document on the spot.
